

San Jose Leadership Council

SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Field Guide to Community Service $5,000 & $2,500

The Field Guide to Community Service is just that — an easy-to-use, resourceful and accessible guide to help people in our community get involved. Please back for details.

20th Anniversary Celebration $2,500

The San Jose Leadership Council is a nonprofit alumni organization committed to the development of leadership skills and opportunities through quality education and training programs that reflect the diversity of San Jose and embody the principles of leadership and community involvement.

There are more than 500 Community Leadership San Jose alumni and this is the 20th anniversary of the class and the 10th anniversary of the San Jose Leadership Academy.

Sponsors will receive recognition at the event, on www.sjleadership.org and in “The Communicator,” our bi-monthly newsletter.

San Jose Leadership Academy Pass-Through Donation $2,500

Each year SJLA students learn about philanthropy first-hand through this important exercise. During the year the students are exposed to a wide variety of nonprofits and at the end of the year, they get to choose, as a group, where $2,500 will be donated.

Sponsors get invited to attend the session where the students allocate the money and recognition on www.sjleadership.org and in “The Communicator,” our bi-monthly newsletter.

Community Leadership San Jose Scholarship Fund Any amount

We’ve created this scholarship fund so we can put together the most diverse, passionate and committed community leaders — regardless of their ability to pay. We realize there are many aspiring leaders who cannot afford tuition for CLSJ. This fund allows us to offer substantial scholarships to community members — from every sector and socio-economic background — would not otherwise be able to take this life-changing course.

San Jose Leadership Academy and San Jose Leadership Council $5,000 & $2,500

General donations are in a great need. The San Jose Leadership Academy serves 30 high school juniors each year and the funding San Jose Unified School District provides only covers one-third of the cost of running this program.

The San Jose Leadership Council promotes civic engagement, fosters relationships and advances personal development for our ever-growing and increasingly involved alumni. We do not charge membership fees to be part of SJLC so individual and corporate donations are essential.

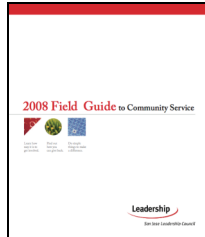

We can’t continue to inspire our community toward civic engagement without your help.

Leadership

San Jose Leadership Council

FIELD GUIDE TO COMMUNITY SERVICE

The Field Guide to Community Service is just that — an easy-to-use, resourceful and accessible guide to help people in our community get involved.

The San Jose Leadership Council published the first guide in 2008 to rave reviews.

“I think the Field Guide is fabulous. My husband Rick and I presented at a United Way Young Leadership Forum event last spring encouraging philanthropic engagement and the big questions were: where do I begin? How do I find out about volunteer opportunities? This is going to be a great tool to share out.”

— Molly Fezell, Past President, Junior League of San Jose and Communications Specialist, FIRST 5 Santa Clara County

SJLC's Field Guide to Community Service won a prestigious APEX 2009 Award of Excellence for One-of-a-Kind Print Publications. In order to continue providing this resource for our community, we need your support.

Sponsorship Opportunities

Gold sponsor $5,000

Includes large logo on back cover of printed and electronic version, logo placement on www.sjleadership.org and pdf version provided for sponsor to distribute directly to employees.

Silver sponsor $2,500

Includes large logo on back cover of printed and electronic version and logo placement on www.sjleadership.org.

At the San Jose Leadership Council, we like to envision a world where people refer to their service work with equal emphasis as they do to their day jobs.

Are you ready to connect to your community?

Contact Rick Holden at rick@sjleadership.org or (408) 291-5256.